Stearns 1st US Amb. Greece Has Made a “Grand Commander”

By Constantinos S. Tripas

The National Herald

May 10-16, 2014

$1.50

BOSTON, MA - Retired U. S. Ambassador to Greece, John stearns was recently made a Grand Commander of the Order of the Phoenix by the President of Greece, Prokopis Pavlopoulos, in recognition of his contributions to the culture and development of the Greek nation and culture. Ambassador Stearns had been instrumental in fostering cultural exchange and cooperation between the United States and Greece, and was honored for his work in strengthening ties between the two countries.

The ceremony was held at the Greek Embassy in Washington, D.C., where Ambassador Stearns received the award in a ceremony presided over by the President of Greece. The event was attended by a number of dignitaries, including members of the Greek American community and representatives from the US government.

Ambassador Stearns expressed his gratitude for the recognition and vowed to continue his efforts to promote cultural exchange and cooperation between the United States and Greece. He stated that the award was a testament to the enduring friendship between the two countries, and that he would continue to work towards strengthening ties between the United States and Greece.

The event was also attended by members of the Greek American community, who expressed their congratulations and gratitude to Ambassador Stearns for his contributions to the relationship between the United States and Greece.

The ceremony concluded with a reception, where guests were treated to a variety of Greek cuisine and music, and had the opportunity to meet and mingle with the ambassador and other dignitaries.

The event was well-received by the Greek American community, who expressed their appreciation for the ambassador's contributions to the relationship between the United States and Greece.

The event was also attended by members of the Greek American community, who expressed their congratulations and gratitude to Ambassador Stearns for his contributions to the relationship between the United States and Greece.

The ceremony concluded with a reception, where guests were treated to a variety of Greek cuisine and music, and had the opportunity to meet and mingle with the ambassador and other dignitaries.

The event was well-received by the Greek American community, who expressed their appreciation for the ambassador's contributions to the relationship between the United States and Greece.

The event was also attended by members of the Greek American community, who expressed their congratulations and gratitude to Ambassador Stearns for his contributions to the relationship between the United States and Greece.

The ceremony concluded with a reception, where guests were treated to a variety of Greek cuisine and music, and had the opportunity to meet and mingle with the ambassador and other dignitaries.

The event was well-received by the Greek American community, who expressed their appreciation for the ambassador's contributions to the relationship between the United States and Greece.

The event was also attended by members of the Greek American community, who expressed their congratulations and gratitude to Ambassador Stearns for his contributions to the relationship between the United States and Greece.

The ceremony concluded with a reception, where guests were treated to a variety of Greek cuisine and music, and had the opportunity to meet and mingle with the ambassador and other dignitaries.

The event was well-received by the Greek American community, who expressed their appreciation for the ambassador's contributions to the relationship between the United States and Greece.
Continued from page 1

archdiocesan Council of the Greek Orthodox Church in America convened for its regular meeting held in Washington, DC. The chairmanship of Archbishop Demetrios, is important knowledge for our faithful and our loved ones. As the first half of the concert was drawing to a close, Lekkas was singing “Tis Xeni-Dwelling of Christ and a Witness to and investment in creativity and rhythmic clapping. The music was tastefully integrated with photos and text that triggered even more emotion and that was before the dance had even begun. The program under Lekkas’ leadership and Petros Fourniotis directed the audience together now.’’

The guests were welcomed to the reception. She and Storr told TNH she had the privilege of meeting both with students and with faculty and staff. The grants will support visiting artist residencies worldwide, committing the grants to a new global mindset in Ghana, which surrounded the lively and evocative paintings of Lynette Art. ”

Dracopoulos placed the Yale grants will support visiting artist residencies worldwide, committing the grants to a new global mindset in Ghana, which surrounded the lively and evocative paintings of Lynette Art. ”

Dracopoulos placed the Yale grants will support visiting artist residencies worldwide, committing the grants to a new global mindset in Ghana, which surrounded the lively and evocative paintings of Lynette Ar...